Becoming Legitimate Logophilic Laureates: Strategies for Upping Your Spelling Game

- Man is separated from all other animals by the ability to communicate across space and time.
- This ability is made possible by written language.
- Communication in writing is made possible by man's agreement on the symbols he uses.

The agreed sequence of those written symbols is called Spelling.

The Importance of Correct Spelling

When our spelling is perfect, it's invisible. But when it's flawed, it prompts strong negative associations. --Marilyn vos Savant

Spelling mistakes in a letter is like a bug on a white shirt.

If you can spell "Nietzsche" without Google, you deserve a cookie.

The importance of proper spelling

Even though being a good speller has lost its ranking in some schools, we can hope there is one group of artisans who still find spelling important: the tattoo artist.

The importance of proper spelling

The police have no leads as yet on the person or persons who painted obscene suggestions on the buildings. One store owner said he was going to leave a dictionary on a public bench so the vandals could at least spell the obscenities correctly.

I gave her a love letter and she returned it to me by correcting spelling and punctuation.

MOM: Don't they teach you how to spell these days?

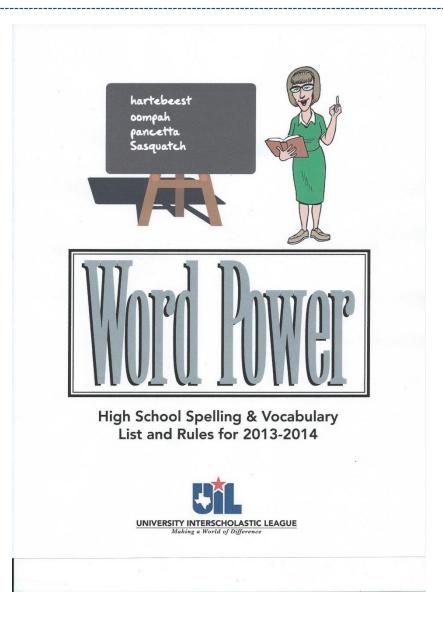

SON: No. They teach us to use spell-check.

Why so much vocabulary??

You can't build up a vocabulary if you never meet any new words. And to meet them you must read. The more you read the better.

To put it simply, spelling and vocabulary are important! Correctly spelled words, coupled with precise and compelling diction, are two of the most important aspects of effective communication.

lins is Official Word list for this Contest. It also contains the rules and procedures for the contest as well as a sample test. The UIL Constitution and Spelling Handbook are the source for all the rules.

UIL Spelling and Vocabulary Contest

PART I. PROOFREADING AND VOCABULARY PART II. SPELLING FROM DICTATION PART III. TIE-BREAKER

Part I Proofreading

Part I Proofreading

- Most of the words from this section of the test are from Word Power.
- Up to twenty percent (20%) of the words on this part of the test may be from other sources.

Questions 1-15 of Part I are comprised of 15 Proofreading sets. Each question is worth one point each.

Part I Vocabulary

Part I Vocabulary

15 points - multiple choice test of word origins and meanings.

- The 350 words designated for this part of the test are marked in the Word Power list with a DOT.

Questions 16-30 are comprised of vocabulary entries and are worth one point each.

Part II. Spelling from Dictation

70 points - 70 words, pronounced at a rate of 4 words per minute - one every fifteen seconds. A definition will be given for every word.

Using Language Skills to Build Strength in Spelling

Phonics, Pronunciation, and Spelling

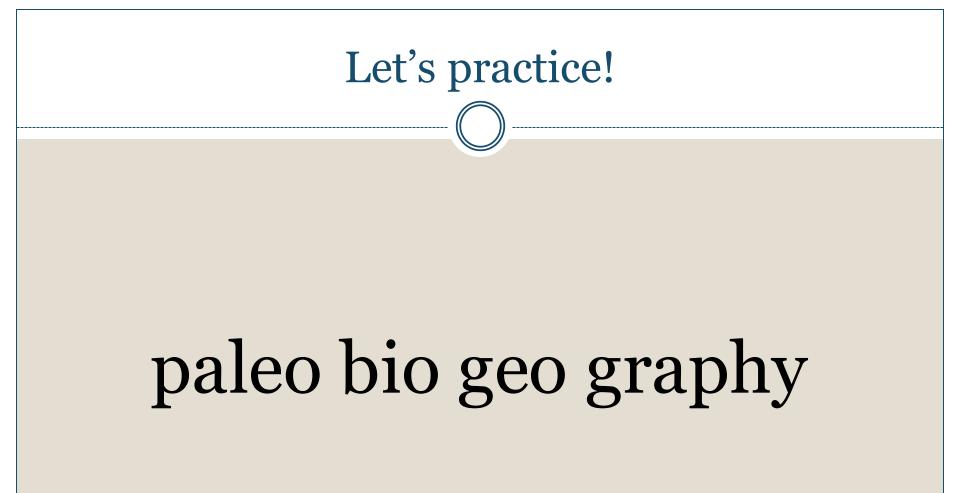

Tips for Spelling

Q: How do you spell a really long word?A: Sound it out!

SUPERCALIFRAGILISTICEXPIALIDOCIOUS

SUPER CALI FRAGIL ISTIC EXPIALI DO CIOUS

Pronunciation

- Spelling is a very recent language skill.
- Before there was a written form of language, there were words.
- The invention of the printing press in 1468 made it necessary to come to agreement on how to present words in writing.

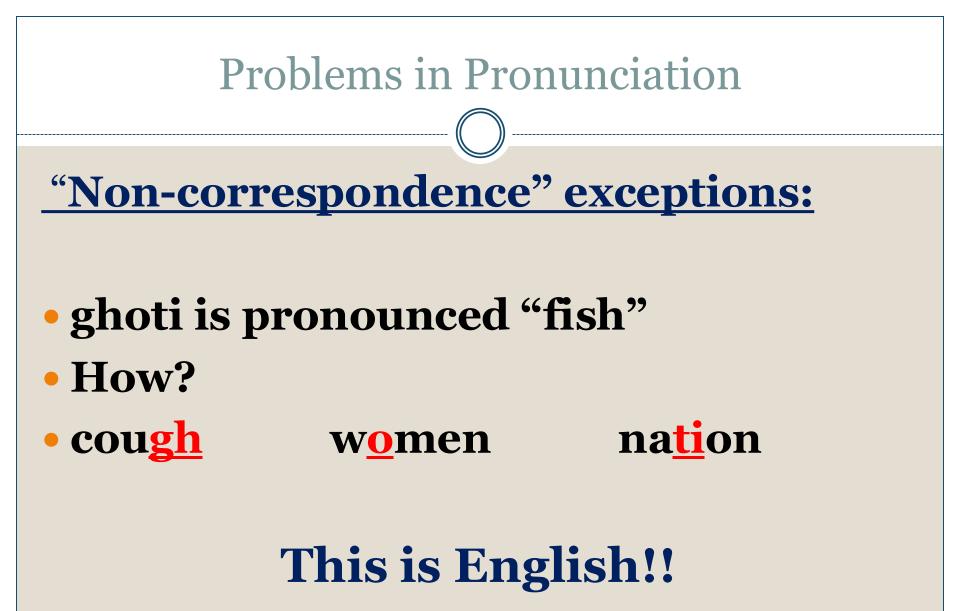

Sound-Symbol Correspondence

- In languages like Latin and Spanish, there is a direct correspondence between sound and symbol: each sound is represented by a specific symbol.
- In other languages, including English, a speech sound may be represented by several symbols and a symbol may represent several sounds, depending on the letters around it.

Problems in Pronunciation

ghoti

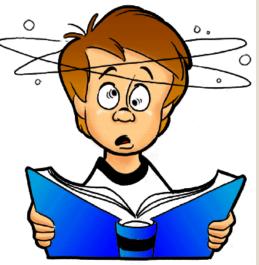

Let's take a look at the word MERCEDES

What do you notice about the vowels?

They are the same single letter but with three different pronunciations!

"Mer" = m $\hat{u}r$ "ced" = s $\bar{a}d$ "es" = $\bar{e}s$

- And here's a nice one on English spelling attributed to Oscar Wilde...
- If GH can stand for P as in Hiccough If OUGH stands for O as in Dough If PHTH stands for T as in Phthisis
 If EIGH stands for A as in Neighbor If TTE stands for T as in Gazette
 If EAU stands for O as in Plateau

• The right way to spell POTATO should be:

GHOUGHPHTHEIGHTTEEAU!

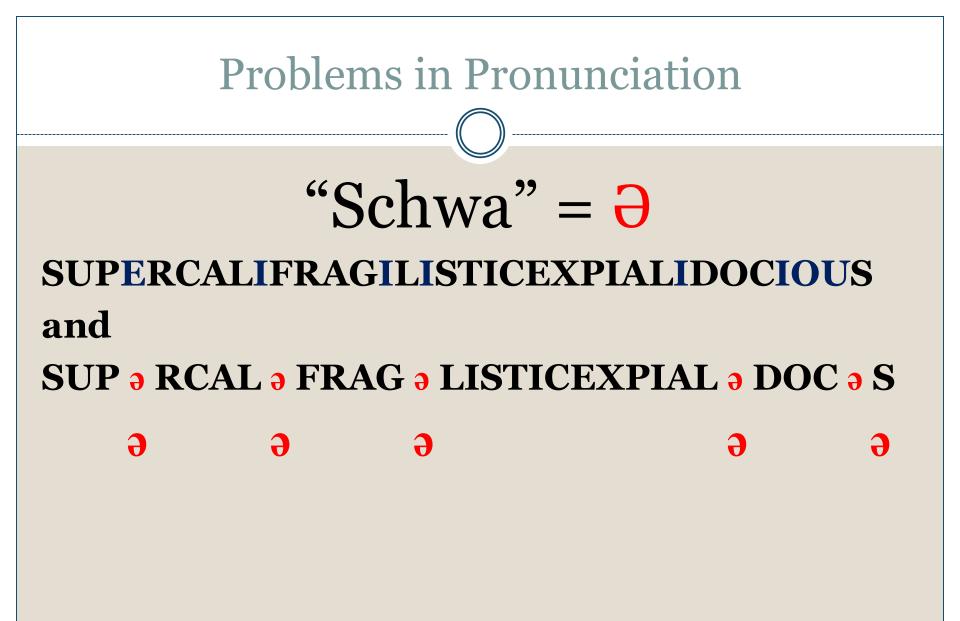

The troublesome SCHWA (ə)

- The most common sound in the English language is represented in the dictionary by the upside-down "e".
- The schwa falls only on unstressed syllables.
- Any vowel can make the sound, and so can "y".
- Sometimes the schwa can even show up where vowels fear to tread, as in "rhythm".

The SCHWA

- And only in the English language can a single sound be so versatile!
- It's why there are no spelling contests in other languages.
- In Romance languages, like French and Spanish, vowels are predictable. Take for example the word "banana." In Spanish the three "a" sounds are identical, but in English, because the stress falls on the middle syllable, the first and third "a" sounds become schwas.

And because English absorbs words from every language, words with obvious spellings in their native tongues can become mysterious.

Watch and Listen for ...

acolyte (ăk´ə-līt') adenoma (ăd´ən-o´mə) babushka (bə-boosh'kə) cacophonous (kə-käf´ə-nəs) distensible (dĭ-stĭn´sə-bəl) indecipherable (ĭn´dĭ-sī´fər-ə-bəl) pachydermatous (pak'ĭ-dûr'm-t-t-s) (These words are not from this year's list)

Problems in Pronunciation

Consonant Blends

Consonant pairs (bl-,br-, ch, etc.) have blended sounds that are different from that of the letters when pronounced separately.

- Diphthongs (Vowel pairs) such as -ae, -ai, -au, -ea, etc.) are the same issue.
- Separating these pairs into their component sounds, exaggerating each sound, facilitates spelling.

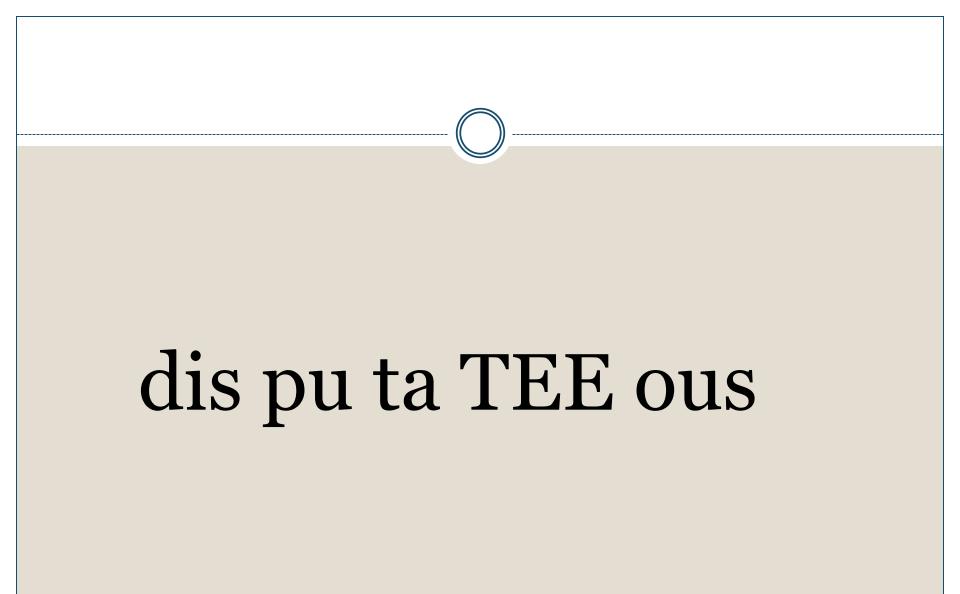

One solution

Sound Color = exaggerated "Pure" letter-sound Consonant/vowel blends can be more troublesome; they may sound the same but look different: Precious > preshus Contentious > contenshus o precious > preCEEus o contentious > contenTEEus Speak the Spelling!

Let's "color"!

How would you color

predacious ?

Google Root Words for much more on this topic.

- Oto- = ear
- -rhino- = nose
- -laryng- = throat

-ologist = One who studies

Ear, Nose and Throat doctor = Otorhinolaryngologist

As you study the Word Power list, especially for Vocabulary Words, make lists of the Root Words, prefixes, and suffixes you identify.
That way you learn the pieces once and have them every time you need them, such as when you take the SAT.

Basic Spelling Rules

• Words Ending in a Silent e

Before adding a suffix beginning with a vowel or y to a word ending in a silent e, drop the e (with some exceptions).

amaze + ing = amazing

nerve + ous = nervous

Exceptions: Words ending in soft "g" and "c" sounds, such as change + able = changeable; amerce + ment=amercement

Words Ending in a Consonant

In words of more than one syllable, double the final consonant when the word ends with one consonant preceded by one vowel AND when the word is accented on the last syllable.

be GIN + ing = beginning per MIT + ing = permitting
re FER + ing = referring

Note that in the new words formed with suffixes, the stress remains on the SAME syllable.

In the following examples the accent does NOT remain on the same syllable; thus, the final consonant is NOT doubled.

RE fer + ence = reference

CON fer +ence = conference

PRE fer + ence = preference

Prefixes and Suffixes in Spelling

- When adding a prefix to a word, do not change the spelling of the base word. When a prefix creates a double letter, keep both letters.
- ir + regular = irregular
- il + logical = illogical
- mis + spell = misspell
- When adding -ness to a word ending in n, keep both n's.

sudden + ness = suddenness thin + ness = thinness

dumb + bell = dumbbell (*recent outside word)

over + regulate = overregulate (new word) maudlin + ness = maudlinness (new word)

i before e?!?

i before e... except when you run a feisty heist on a weird beige foreign neighbour

Created by: @mrsimontaylor Shared by Grammarly.com facebook.com/grammart • Remember this rule learned in elementary school: i before e except after c or sounded long a.

i before e: thief, relieve, grieve, niece, field except after c: conceit, perceive, ceiling, receipt sounded long a: skein, vein, feint

Exceptions: either, weird, seize, leisure

Let's practice!

Q: sp__ss?

A: speiss! (Exception to the rule, likely because it originated in Germany.)

- Q: v___nstone?
- A: veinstone! (Rule applies. Long a sound.)
- Q: vice r___ne?
- A: vicereine! (Rule applies. Long a sound.
- Q: aggr___ved
- A: aggrieved (Rule applies.)

Rule for using -ible or -able

- If the root is not a complete word, add –ible. For example, visible, horrible, terrible, possible, edible.
- If the root is a complete word, add –able. For example, fashionable, laughable, suitable, comfortable.
- If the root is a complete word ending in -e, drop the final -e and add -able. For example, advisable, desirable, valuable, debatable.
- Once again, however, exceptions exist: contemptible, digestible, flexible, responsible, irritable, inevitable.

Q: excis__ble? A: excisable! (Rule applies because root is word.)

Q: plaus___ble? A: plausible ! (Rule applies because root isn't complete word.)

Q: deduct _bility? A: deductibility! (Exception to rule.)

Q: amic___ble? A: amicable (Exception)

When to use -sede, -ceed, or -cede

Only one English word ends in –sede: supersede (often seen on UIL tests!) Three words end in –ceed: exceed, proceed, and succeed. All other verbs ending in the "seed" sound are spelled with -cede, as in concede, precede, recede, and secede.

Organize for Learning

All of these features of words in the WordPower list can be used to organize the words to help you learn them.

Put words with similar features together in Word Families.

Word Families

- Words with common or similar characteristics
- Word forms
- Words with non-alphabetic elements
- Alternate spellings
- Capitalization (Required, Optional, for Definition)
- Root words and Affixes
- Contexts

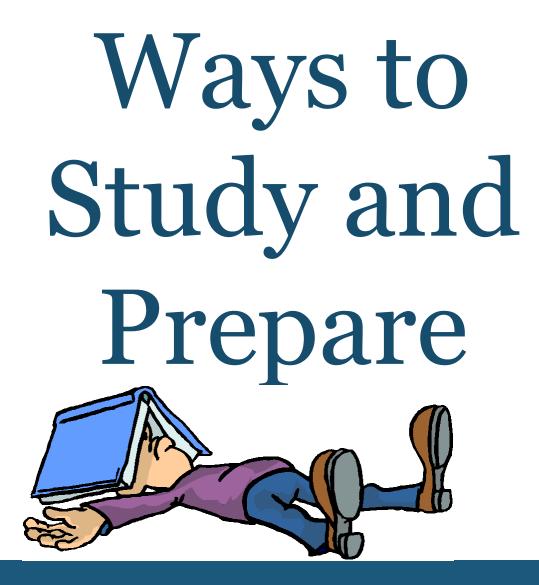

Contexts and Word Families

- Medical terms
 - Legal terms
 - Food terms
- Political terms
- Musical terms
- Words from the same language

Non-Alphabetic Written Symbols

- Words which have come in to English from other languages may have non-alphabetic features which designate pronunciation, such as
- the tilde ~
- the circumflex ^ and caron
- the cedilla,
- the dieresis " or umlaut
- and the acute ' and grave ` accents

These are Pronunciation features and must be used correctly in spelling the word correctly.

- Have fun with your teammates! If you are bored or uninterested, you can be sure that they will be, too! To be an effective UIL Speller, you MUST be excited about words. If you are, you will convey your love of words to your team.
- Emphasize the team aspect of UIL and encourage teammates to support each other and to help each other learn words...more about this later!
- Expect to devote a good deal of time to preparing for this contest. It takes work to produce winners!

Create Study Materials

- Word Cards and Practices sets
 - o Look up each word;
 - On a 3 x 5 card:
 - •Write the definition;
 - •Write the derivation (root or origin)

• Write the pronunciation given and the pronunciation that reflects the "sound color" of the vowels in unaccented syllables.

Establish a Context

- When you have written the word, its definition, derivation, and pronunciation on the card, write a sentence that uses the word in its appropriate context.
- Pronounce the word and listen to the way it sounds; repeat it several times if it is a hard word.
- Say the word. Spell the word. Say the word.
- Say the word. Write the word. Say the word.

HOW TO STUDY

SCHOOL HACKS

Peppermint stimulates the brain and helps with concentration

While studying for a certain subject, pretend that you will have to teach the material. It helps you pay more attention.

Studying hard for 30 to 50 minutes at a time with 10 minute breaks in between is the most effective way to study.

Eating chocolate while studying will help the brain retain information easily

Writing something out is equivalent to reading it 7 times.

You're more likely to remember something that you wrote in blue ink than in black ink.

- Lydia: You are such a tatterdemalion! Go rusticate!
- Kendall: I hope you get the screaming meemies, you varlet!
- Lydia: You wisenheimer! You think you're a whizbang wonk but vox populi says you're really just a boondoggling Walter Mitty!
- Kendall: You are gauche and lack erudition! Go fall off a cuesta and catch kyphosis!
- Lydia: Your floruit is over! I hope you become an old feme covert making feijoada and falafel!

Cautions for Practice

- Speakers may omit sounds or add sounds in such words as different, leverage, surprise, temperament, recognize, history.
- Speakers may transpose (switch) letters in pronouncing such words as irrelevant, tragedy, hundred, realtor.
- Make sure you are hearing the word as it is to be written
- Use Competition Rate of pronunciation

– four words a minute = 15 seconds per word

Practice writing legibly

If graders can't tell what a letter is, they isolate it from the rest of the word by placing their thumbs or cards on either side of it.

If it is unrecognizable, it is incorrect. Two of the three graders must agree that the letter is correct or it is a missed word.

Use standard handwriting or print.

Make a clear distinction between upper- and lower-case letters – DO NOT USE ALL CAPITALS!

Winners Double-check Results

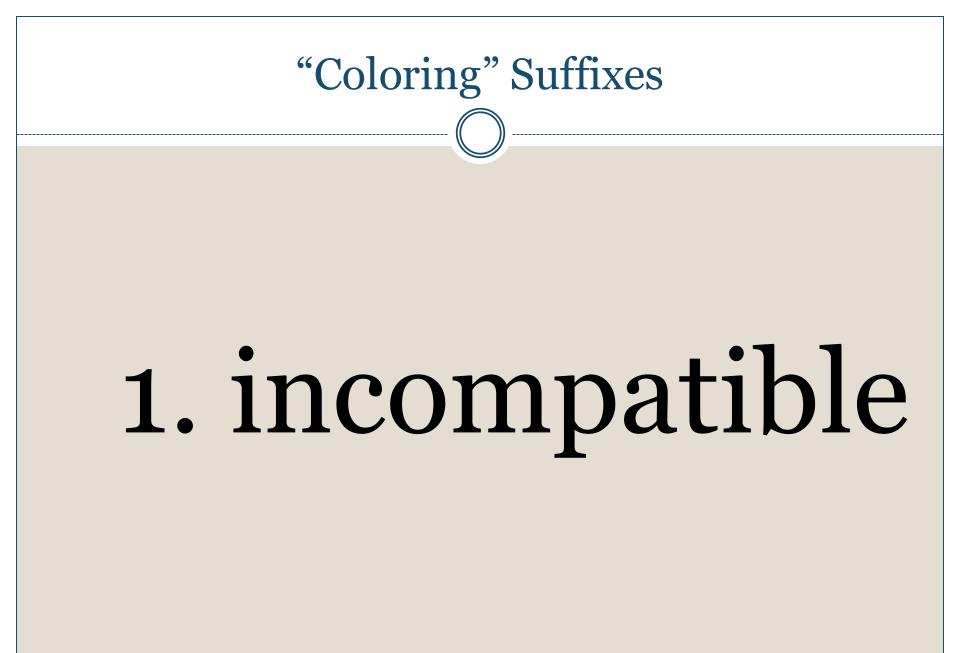

At contests, always use the fifteen minute
 Verification Period between the scoring of the papers and the announcement of Final Results to check the computation of your score.

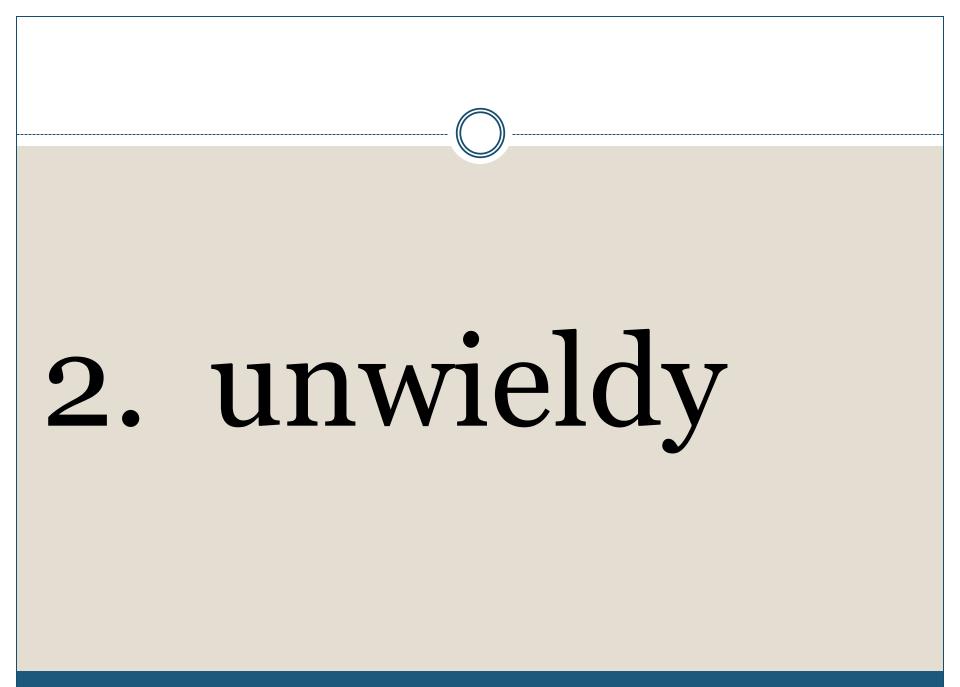

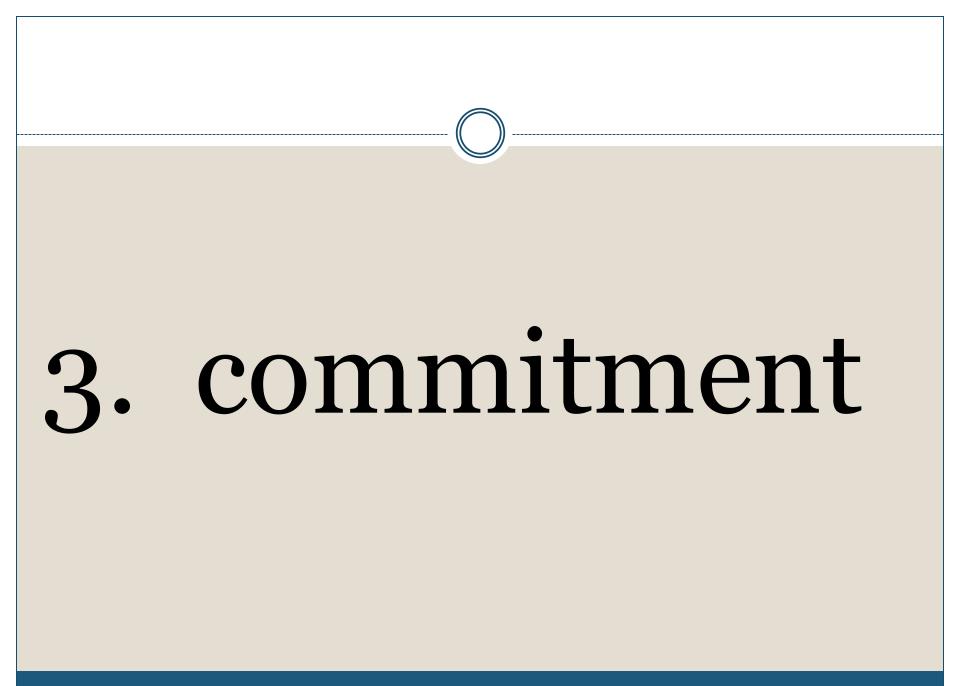

Practice, Practice, Practice If you prepare, you will be a winner!
