WHEN WE GET ATTACKED!

- I am so tired of these teachers doing nothing and expecting their students that they are supposed to serve to just figure things out. As parents, we need daily emails about what is happening in the class and not just a calendar of activities for the week or month. I don't have time to read all of that.
- This grading is getting ridiculous. It's like they expect these kids to be perfect. They aren't perfect so if they aren't going to give a perfect grade, they need to give LOTS of information about why it wasn't perfect.
- My son's teacher makes lots of inappropriate comments to the class. Every day, my son comes home to tell me something else that was said. Why does the administration let these type of people continue to teach.

AND IN RESPONSE

HOW DOES THIS MAKE YOU FEEL?

WHAT DO YOU WANT TO SAY IN RETURN?

HOW CAN YOUR RESPONSE MAKE THINGS BETTER OR WORSE?

IS SILENCE THE BEST RESPONSE?

WHEN WE DO THE SAME THING!

- I am done and ready to move on. This administration doesn't communicate with us just with the department heads. We don't know what is going on but are expected to follow expectations.
- Why can't teachers do what is right. I work so hard to do everything I am supposed to do, be on time, and meet the needs of all my students and there are teachers who just give A's so they don't have to do anything and let their kids wander the halls. I hate being "the mean teacher" because I am following rules.
- The contest directors in some of the events at that tournament just let other people take over that didn't know the rules. DON'T GO TO TOURNAMENT if you want a tournament run by the rules.

RESULTS

We lose credibility.

Our field loses credibility.

We reinforce what is being said.

We create toxic environments.

We become part of the problem - not the solution.

How can we expect grace when we refuse to give grace.
